My signature below indicates that I have read and understood the conditions specified on this form. One major difference between high school and college courses concerns the sharing of information about student performance. Under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), a federal law passed in 1974, only directory information may be shared with anyone other than the student; however, under the provisions in FERPA, TSTC can share student's progress with designated personnel from the high school district, usually a counselor, principal, or registrar.

By signing below, I acknowledge that I have read and understand this form.
